Developing, influencing, performing

This training course prepares participants for the two-stage examinations for Diploma qualification. These are comprised of five modules of Principles of Asset Management and seven modules of Advanced Asset Management. The program is suited to experienced practitioners with existing or recent industrial or infrastructure asset management responsibilities, in particular those to their work environment. Participants will develop a business-centered appreciation of asset management and will be better able to influence decisions and the performance of the organization. The course is cross-disciplinary and helps foster teamworking and to effectively breakdown departmental silos.
